HOLIDAY CROWDS SPEND $500,000 IN LAKE COUNTY

Twenty Year Records Fall Before Buying Spree in Lake Region

Sales records of twenty years standing toppled here during the holiday week-end when an unprecedented business was brought to stores, resorts and amusement places by the 200,000 pleasure seekers who visited Lake County and the resort region. Conservative estimates place the holiday spending at a half million dollars, but reports from some sources indicate that the spending spree figures totalled $750,000. A check today by the News of Tuesday's bank deposits in the locality verifies the half million mark on the holiday spending.

In Antioch many stores found their supplies running short before Saturday night, and many were entirely sold out in some lines. Huge supplies of groceries, meats, canned goods, sports wear and resort equipment were being rushed to stores throughout the region to keep pace with the unprecedented buying. Some stores in Fox Lake were entirely sold out and closed their doors because there were no more supplies to be had.

Along with the holiday rush which began Friday afternoon, came sharp advances in prices on some lines, noticeably the berry market. Strawberries, selling two boxes for 25c in mid-week were selling at 35 cents a box by Saturday night. Local dealers had nothing whatever to do with the advance, and distributors attributed the sudden rise to the seasonal decline of supply and the great demand. The local A. & P. store broke a 20 year record for sales last week-end and topped all the stores in this district for volume of sales. Other stores reported similar increases in business over holidays in former years.

No Traffic Fatalities
In spite of the congested traffic incident to the three-day recreation period, only minor accidents and slight injuries were reported in the county. There were also several minor injuries from fireworks; and only death from drowning marred the vacation period. Four persons were drowned in Lake County, all at places unprotected by life guards.

PLANS COMPLETED FOR FARMERS' PICNIC

Ag. Men of County to Have Full Day at Diamond Lake Wednesday

The annual Farmers' Picnic will be held at Diamond Lake, on Wednesday, July 14th. The chairman of all committees report that plans are completed.

The entertainment committee has arranged for the Crystal Lake Drum and Bugle Corps to be present and play for the picnic. WLS artists, Chuck and Ray, who have been on radio for many years and are now back in Chicago with WLS; Christine, singer of folk songs and yodeler; and Tom Corwin, veteran imitator, will appear at the picnic at 1:00 p. m., 3 p. m., 7:00 p. m., and 8:30 p. m.

Soft ball will be played by the Lake County Boys 4-H Clubs to determine the championship to represent Lake County at the Sports' Festival at Urbana September 3 and 4.

Many of the Tug-O-War teams are lined up for that event; the winner is to represent Lake County at Urbana. Grayslake Merchants team will play an outstanding team from the county. Horseshoe pitching will start at 10:00, with single and double contests. Lee Kane and his committee have arranged for many interesting and fascinating races and games.

There will be a dance at night featuring both old and new time dances. Hapke's six piece orchestra will furnish the music.

Mrs. Clara Willett Sails for European Trip

Mrs. Clara Willett left Thursday for New York where she embarked on a voyage to Europe. For the next two months she will be the guest of relatives and friends in England and France. The vacation trip is the gift of her son, Harry Willett, who is employed as railway mail clerk working out of Chicago.

King's Balcony Now is Air-Conditioned

An innovation in Antioch and the lakes region is the air-conditioned balcony at King's drug store which was opened for the summer season the latter part of the week. The large mezzanine floor at the rear of the store has been enclosed, redecorated and a complete air-conditioning system installed.

Specifications were prepared by George Eisot, electrical refrigeration engineer, and the management is well pleased with the efficiency of the system. Through its use temperature in the balcony is brought down to the comfortable 70's when outside heat reaches the sweltering high of 95 degrees, according to Bob King who has kept a close tabulation during the present heat wave.

The new air-conditioned balcony is becoming known as "the coolest spot in town." King's invite you to visit it at any time.

MAT FANS ALL SET FOR FIRST WRESTLING SHOW FRIDAY NIGHT

Bob Bruns and Jap Champ Featured in Windup at Round Lake

Lake County sport lovers who have unanimously accepted professional wrestling and by their attendance during the past three years have made it one of the most important summer sports in this part of the country, will once again get a chance to watch champions and near champions from all parts of the world wrestle it out beneath the stars in the first card of the season in the Round Lake Haunted House Open-air Arena Friday night, July ninth.

Featured in the main event are two of the country's outstanding contenders for the world's championship, Oki Shikana, Jui-Jitsu marvel, and Bobby Bruns, 220 pound blond sensation who is the greatest favorite ever to appear in the Round Lake arena. Both men have their eyes on a world's title match with Champion Everett Marshall and a win for either of them will place him that much closer to the title shot.

Strong Supporting Card
In the semi-windup Frankie Talaber, clever light heavyweight who is undefeated as a professional, will meet "Bully Boy" Kogut, Canadian light-heavyweight champion, in the first round of the Northern Illinois Sectional Tournament which is a part of the national tournament now under way to uncover a new and official world's light-heavyweight champion. Three high class preliminary matches complete the card and promise plenty of thrills and action for local addicts. Al Perey, powerful Southern Adonis, mixes with Rudy Kay one of the roughest of modern matmen in a thirty minute set that should provide plenty of excitement.

Al Williams, Fox Lake rough boy, drew hundreds from his home town to watch him try to hold down Jack Curtis, rated with Talaber among the fastest in the game. The opening match on the card pits Billy Gielz, Toledo, Ohio, rough guy, against Knute Franklin, brawny Swede. Tickets will again be priced at 50 cents and reserved seats at one dollar plus tax. Ladies with escorts will be admitted to the ringside section free. The first match is scheduled to start at 8:30 p. m.

HUGE CROWDS SEE LEGION CARNIVAL OVER THE HOLIDAY

Local Post and Auxiliary Profit from Four-Day Show

Not only was the four-day carnival which closed here Monday night featured by a record attendance, but it was also the most profitable event of the kind ever held in Antioch, grossing over $1,200 for the sponsors, the Antioch American Legion Post and Auxiliary. After deducting expenses for tent rentals, prizes and incidentals, a substantial net sum will be divided between the Legion and Auxiliary.

Perfect weather and the record crowd visiting the lakes region over the long holiday were contributing factors in making this year's carnival an outstanding success, according to committee members who expressed themselves as being well pleased.

The carnival attractions, all of which were operated by Legion men and Auxiliary members with the exception of the carnival rides, were busy during the four nights and three afternoons of the big show.

Due to village ordinance, fireworks were not a part of the carnival program, but the big crowds were well entertained despite the absence of this usual patriotic display.

The Doolan Amusement company operated the Ferris wheel and other rides on a percentage basis.

ALLENDALE BOYS ATTEND EVANSTON FIREWORKS

Fifteen boys from the Alendale Farm at Lake Villa shared the intense enjoyment of 20,000 spectators at Dyche stadium Monday evening at Evanston's annual fireworks pageant sponsored by the American Legion and business men of Evanston. The boys were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Temple Bellamy of Chicago, and they were accompanied by Director and Mrs. Thompson and C. M. Trowbridge of Alendale.

RECOVER BODIES OF FOUR DROWNED IN COUNTY LAKES

Channel Lake, Pistakee Bay, Deep Lake, Fox River Claim Victims

Lake county waters claimed four victims over the holiday week-end, raising the 1937 county death toll from drowning to 11. The four tragic water fatalities is believed to have set a new record for the county in a single brief holiday period. Although yet early in the season the county record is within two of last year's fatalities when 13 were drowned. The lowest record for a season during the last decade was in 1933 when 12 persons were drowned in the county.

The first of the holiday drownings in this locality was in Pistakee Bay Saturday, and the victim was Theodore Michaels, 23, of 2226 Canton avenue, Chicago. Michaels was drowned when his small boat capsized in a sudden wind squall. His body was recovered by members of the Fox Lake fire department and the inquest was held in Fox Lake.

Julius Petersen Drowned

The body of Julius Petersen, 19, the second victim, was recovered Tuesday when it came to the surface of Channel Lake 60 feet from the diving raft and about 100 yards from the shore at Slide Inn. He was drowned Sunday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock.

The youth was the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Petersen, former residents of Antioch, who now reside at Grayslake. The young man has attended school in Antioch and was well known here.

He had been swimming with a party including Miss Helen Sorensen, his cousin, of 2244 Calumet avenue, Chicago; R. B. Sherwood, of the same address, and his brother, Fred Petersen. Witnesses report that young Petersen had gone under the water while swimming toward the raft.

Members of the Antioch fire department were called to the scene and the lake was dragged for over seven hours in an effort to recover the body. Ray Pregener sent a powerful tow boat to Channel Lake to assist the firemen, but their efforts were unavailing. Hundreds of bathers who thronged the beach and water, apparently unaware of the tragedy, interfered with the work of the firemen and efforts at recovery were temporarily abandoned. The body came to the surface of the water Tuesday and was brought to Strang's funeral home. A verdict of accidental drowning was returned by the coroner's jury at the inquest held here yesterday.

Drowned in Deep Lake

John Lehman, 52, of 1911 Taylor avenue, Chicago, lost his life Monday at Deep Lake when he waded out from the pier at Johnson's Resort. He had been in a boat with friends, and decided to stay near the shore when swimming. Soon his body was seen lying in the water. Efforts at resuscitation were unsuccessful. A post-mortem examination at the inquest indicated that the man had died from heart ailment rather than by drowning. The body was removed to Chicago for burial. Lehman was a painter and belonged to union No. 1055.

Fox River Tragedy

The body of Edward Manners, 18, drowned Monday in Fox river, was recovered early yesterday and the inquest was held at Nimrod Casa near the river bridge.

The youth was the son of Mr. and Mrs. James C. Manners of 918 West 31st Place, Chicago, and he had been visiting friends at a Fox Lake cottage. He had been boating and swimming in the river with two companions, Frank Pelikan and Frank, Jr. His friends said that young Manners dived from the back of the boat and did not again arise to the surface. Antioch firemen who were called were unable to locate the body. The body was taken to Chicago for burial.

Antioch's Early History Suggested in Antiques

Many interesting articles connected with the early history of Antioch were displayed at the Antique and Needlework display held after the meeting of the Altar and Rosary Society Wednesday afternoon at St. Peter's Hall. Among these were unusual Paisley shawls, a melodeon, music box, English ware and American pressed glass. A "Paul Revere" lantern, brought from York State about 1839 to Antioch was another interesting piece.

Miss Jeanette Marsh's display and talk on Old Glass and China was enjoyed by all.

Labor and Politics

"Since last November there has been a larger monthly average total of strikes than at any other period in the country's history with the exception of 1917," says the United States News. From November through May, exactly 2,323 strikes have occurred. They have struck 46 of the 48 states—North Dakota and New Mexico being the exceptions. As is to be expected, they have been most numerous in sections of the country where industrial development is highest—Michigan, New York, New England, California. They have been least numerous in the agricultural states—Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska, etc.

Even so, there is nothing unique in the number of strikes that have occurred in recent months—the World War years provide a numerical parallel. However, as the U. S. News also points out, there is a vast fundamental difference in the demands the strikers are making today as compared to those they made in 1917.

In practically all pre-depression strikes, labor demanded higher wages and (or) shorter working weeks. The closed shop was rarely a vital issue. Today the primary demands of strikers is the closed shop. In many instances, union demands for higher wages and shorter work weeks have been met by industry—but strikes have continued, because employers refused to grant the closed shop.

This is obviously a vital change in labor's attitude. Furthermore, it has been accompanied by the entry of labor into politics on an unprecedented scale. The A. F. of L., for instance, used to keep absolutely clear of political partisanship—yet before the last election, A. F. of L's President Green and other high officials came out strongly in favor of the reelection of Mr. Roosevelt. And John L. Lewis, head of A. F. of L's rival, the CIO, is a strong Roosevelt backer, and was a major contributor to the Democratic campaign fund. He is likewise a strong influence in several of the major industrial states, notably Pennsylvania and Michigan. It is his belief that the labor movement, if it is to be successful, must be permanently and aggressively involved in politics.

This unprecedented situation has caused a definite cleavage of opinion over labor and its desires and activities. It is the general opinion among employers, for instance, that the great issue of the hour is whether labor is to run, by proxy, the government. The labor union executives and the liberal and radical publications that side with labor, feel that direct action is essential, and that such strategy as the sit-down strikes and the demand for a 100 per cent closed shop, where no non-union man may work, is necessary if labor is to receive its fair share of industry's earnings.

One thing is certain—Labor is more powerful today than ever in the past. In the nineteen years ending in 1932, less than 30 per cent of strikes ended with labor winning its demands. Last year, while in 36 per cent more, labor received part of its demands.

As every student of history knows, recovery from a depression breeds strikes. This was true after the depressions of 1884, 1891, 1907, etc. However, today the issues are deeper and different, and present strikes cannot be accurately compared with those of previous decades. It is also true that for the first time in our history, the Federal government has attempted to solve the problem through legislation—the Wagner Act creating the National Labor Relations Board.

Admittedly, the Wagner Act is one-sided—it puts responsibilities of many kinds upon employers, and few upon labor. The Supreme Court spoke of this fact in upholding the Act, but said there was nothing in the Constitution to prevent Congress from passing a one-sided law. So far, the Wagner Act has certainly failed in preventing strikes—but in fairness to the Act, it should be recorded that it has seldom been invoked. In the recent steel strikes, for instance, it was not brought into force. As a result, the adequacy of the Act remains in question, and is yet to be proved. General opinion holds that the Act must be extensively revised if it is to achieve real success.

Officialism Over All!

Two of the provisions of the law now pending in Congress proposing the establishment of seven additional regional "electric authorities" of the TVA order, should be known to every citizen who has faith in our democratic system and in honorable government.

The law provides that no person be appointed as director, administrator or member of the authorities "unless he professes belief in the wisdom and feasibility" of the scheme. It provides further that no private utility company, whose business may be appropriated by one of the authorities, may apply for an injunction unless it puts up a bond sufficient to pay all damages suffered by the government or any other interested party in the event the case is decided against the utility.

As Paul Mallon, well known Washington columnist, points out, "By legislative fiat it is proposed to command allegiance to the law and to prevent suits against the law."

Thus methods used widely in Russia, Germany, and other dictator-ridden countries to command allegiance to a dictator's will, are openly proposed in the United States! If this bill passes, private property may be confiscated or its value and income depreciated, and the owner will be helpless. Officialism will become his lord and master, politics his daily bread.

Science and Democracy

Recently Dr. Robert A. Millikan, the noted scientist, returning from Europe, said that democracy's hope lies in the application of the scientific approach to government. Commenting editorially that "there is undoubtedly a connection between democracy and science," the New York Times says:

"The freedom of thinking and inquiring which is the very essence of the scientific approach is a direct offspring of the liberty, equality and fraternity for which believers in democracy laid down their lives. Hence, the fight for democracy is the fight for science—the fight for the objective method that has given us so many discoveries.

"It is no accident that neither fascism nor communism fosters science with this detachment. Mussolini insists that a laboratory worker must be a good Fascist first and a good scientist second. At the Heidelberg celebration of last year it was officially proclaimed that science for science's sake is nonsense. The stake of the scientist in democracy is heavy. If the philosophy that gave us political freedom is destroyed, science must become the serf of the State. It will be impossible for a Newton, a Darwin, a Mendel, or an Einstein to lift his voice and live. Yet there are Fascists and Communists enough among scientists—men who fail to realize that if democracy goes their old freedom of investigation and of theorizing goes too and that they become technologists and mechanics."

LAKE VILLA

The German-Hungarian home for old people was filled with friends who came for the three day holiday and to enjoy the dancing, the barbecue and various amusements provided for their entertainment.

John Lehmann, 52, of Chicago, came to Deep Lake with friends to enjoy the Fourth of July, and was drowned in the shallow water of the shore Monday afternoon. He had been out in a boat with friends and decided to stay near shore; soon his friends noticed that he was lying in the water. The inhalator was used without success, and a post-mortem examination at the coroner's inquest showed that heart trouble was the cause of death, rather than drowning. The body was removed to Chicago for burial.

Even though the community was filled with pleasure seekers over the Fourth of July holidays, no accidents were reported except the drowning at Deep Lake. Everyone seemed to drive carefully so there were no automobile accidents, and even though there were plenty of firecrackers and fireworks, no one was burned, so there is much for which to be thankful.

The Sherwood Camp was filled to capacity with campers and picnickers from Friday night till Monday night.

E. L. Wald, who will be remembered by many of our residents, as he and his family lived here many years, and his wife, the former Mabel Richards, was a Lake Villa girl, passed away at his home at Albany, Georgia, very recently, according to a letter received by Mrs. Zenor, who is a schoolmate of Mr. Wald's daughters, Harriet and Eleanor Wald. His death was very peaceful and quiet, due to a heart ailment. He had been visiting his daughters, Mrs. Fred Powers, nee Harriet Wald, at her home in Jacksonville and died soon after reaching his home, although he had been in his usual health. The Wald family moved to Florida several years ago. Mr. Wald's former home was in Burlington, Wis., where his brother, Albert, and three sisters, Emma, Louise and Minnie Wald now live. The funeral was held at the Seashore funeral home in Albany, Georgia, where he was a member of the North Shore Christian church. True Courage

WHAT is courage? Many people like to be considered brave, but there is a difference between mere physical bravery and true courage. Alexander Pope, the renowned English poet, gives his concept of a brave man in these words: "A brave man thinks no one his superior who does him an injury; for he has it then in his power to make himself superior to the other by forgiving it. Oftentimes it takes courage to forgive an injury, but if the sense of forgiveness should be overshadowed by a belief in one's own superiority, the act of forgiving could in no wise be termed courageous. It certainly would fall far short of the standard set by Christ Jesus, who said (Matthew 5:44), "Love your enemies, bless them that curse you, do good to them that hate you, and pray for them which despitefully use you, and persecute you." This admonition calls for true courage, for it requires humility and selflessness to meet its requirements.

Christ Jesus was the most courageous man that ever walked the earth because he was the meekest and most selfless. Never did he hesitate to say or do what he knew to be right, and always his speech and actions were prompted by unselfed love. He rebuked sinners unhesitatingly, and he sacrificed his human sense of life to show them the way of salvation. His ministry of healing and teaching stands for all time as the acme of selfless devotion to sin-burdened and suffering humanity. He was absolutely convinced of the truth of all that he said and taught, and neither threats nor efforts to destroy him could swerve him from his convictions or make him fearful. He urged his followers to do as he did, and thereby earned the hatred of selfish materialists. He knew, however, that immeasurable blessings would flow to all who should courageously and understandingly obey his admonitions.

In the world today there are many millions of professed Christians, but alas, too much diversity of opinion concerning the teachings and works of the master Christian. Why should this be so when Jesus so clearly mapped out the course to be taken by his true followers? They were to do the works that he did—works of healing as well as regeneration; they were to practice self-denial; they were to promote love and peace throughout the world; and they were in all circumstances to put their trust, not in material things, but in God. And, said he (Matthew 7:20), "By their fruits"—their accomplishments along such lines—"ye shall know them."

Courage of the right sort is sorely needed in the world today, the moral courage to subdue self, to be humble, pure-minded, free from resentment, ready to return good for evil. Such courage is a rebuke to animal courage, of which there is a superfluity. Concerning this, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, Mary Baker Eddy, states in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" (pp. 28, 29): "There is too much animal courage in society and not sufficient moral courage. Christians must take up arms against error at home and abroad. They must grapple with sin in themselves and in others, and continue this warfare until they have finished their course. If they keep the faith, they will have the crown of rejoicing."

This much-to-be-desired crown should not be considered as something to be hoped for in some future existence, but as a joyous sense of harmony and spiritual dominion to be striven for and attained here and now. It requires real courage to win and wear this crown, courage to stand firmly on the side of Principle against selfish desires, and oftentimes against the scoffs of sinners. There is nothing more ennobling than courageously forsaking material beliefs for spiritual understanding; for this transition requires humility and unselfed love. Also, it affords deep satisfaction to know that whatever is accomplished through courage born of unselfed love, blesses not only the individuals directly concerned, but, in some degree, all mankind as well.—The Christian Science Monitor.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"God" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, July 4. The Golden Text was, "To the only wise God our Saviour, be glory and majesty, dominion and power, both now and ever" (Jude 1:25).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "And God spake unto Moses, and said unto him, I am the Lord: And I appeared unto Abraham, unto Isaac, and unto Jacob, by the name of God Almighty, but by my name JEHOVAH was I not known to them. And I will take you to me for a people, and I will be to you a God (Exodus 6:2, 3, 7)."

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "God: The great I AM; the all-knowing, all-seeing, all-acting, all-wise, all-loving, and eternal; Principle; Mind; Soul; Spirit; Life; Truth; Love; all substance; Intelligence" (p. 567).

Nine Periods Marked by Mound of Ancient Troy

The mound of ancient Troy, not far from the Hellespont, was discovered many years ago to contain the remnants of at least nine periods of occupation and they were numbered from the bottom through fifty feet of accumulated debris to the top and most modern of the ancient cities, dating as recently as the Third or Fourth century after Christ, writes John Drury in the Chicago Daily News.

Troy VI had previously been thought to be the city of Priam which fell to the legendary wooden horse under the Achaeans of Agamemnon and Achilles, if the story could be substantiated at all.

Troy VI was found to have perished in an earthquake, probably about 1300 B. C., as nearly as it can be dated from the evidence of pottery and other articles. On its adobe ruins, using in many cases the same stone and bricks, was built Troy VII, designated "a" and "b," before and after the fire.

Pottery again supplies the best calendar and the fire that razed Troy VIIa was fixed, independently of legend and Homeric tales, at about 1200 B. C. The best historical evidence places the close of the Achaeans' campaign for the recovery of the beautiful Helen at 1184 B. C.

SHOULD TURN EGGS WHILE INCUBATING

Poultry Expert Cites Four Fundamental Factors.

By Dr. W. C. Thompson, Poultry Husbandman, New Jersey Experiment Station, WNU Service.

Temperature, ventilation, moisture and change of position are the four fundamental factors in obtaining good hatches in incubators.

Changing the position of the embryos during the three weeks of development within the shell is very important. Mother hens, incubating their setting of eggs on the old-fashioned nest, usually move the eggs beneath them at least twice during the day, thus tending to equalize the exposure of each egg to the conditions of temperature, fresh air and moisture, all of which must be uniformly applied to each egg.

In the operation of the modern incubator, man can well copy this rule of the hen. Experimental evidence seems to indicate that he can go the hen one better by doubling the number of turnings during each 24-hour period.

If hatching eggs are changed in position once every six hours, optimum results, other things being equal, will generally result. It is partly a matter of preventing the sticking of the developing embryo to some one position within the shell, and partly a matter of equalizing the exposure of the respective eggs to the conditions which will bring about normal, natural embryonic growth.

Most modern incubators are provided with devices for turning eggs. It is important to be regular and consistent in this practice. It is one of those many small items which, taken collectively, spell successful hatching and the production of chicks.

Warm Soil Is Necessary to Grow the Sweet Corn

With jaded winter appetites hungering for such spring dishes as roastin' ears, home and commercial vegetable gardeners are advised that no definite date can be given for the safe planting of sweet corn, since the seed will not germinate or grow until the soil is fairly warm, according to B. L. Weaver, of the department of horticulture, University of Illinois, college of agriculture.

Planting a number of varieties which vary as to time of maturity is a recommended method of obtaining a succession of roasting ears throughout the season. A good succession of white corn may be had by planting Howling Mob, Early Evergreen, Stowell's Evergreen, Narrows Grain Evergreen or Country Gentleman at the same time. A succession of yellow varieties may be obtained by using Purdue Bantam, Golden Bantam, (Bancross), Golden Cross Bantam and Yellow or Golden Evergreen.

Yield and uniformity are much greater where hybrid seed is used. Hybrids, because of their vigor and possibly because of some inherent resistance, may be less susceptible to bacterial wilt than open-pollinated types.

Selecting New Flock

Poultrymen who are selecting their new breeding flock, if they are planning on raising their own baby chicks this spring, says D. D. Moyer, of the Missouri station, should retain only those hens which are healthy. Hens which have laid well certainly should be included. Satisfactory future breeders are also indicated by thoroughly bleached skin in the case of yellow skinned breeds, and an old, dry coat of feathers, a sign of late molting. Pullets to be used should have large, rugged bodies, well covered with muscle and fat.

They should show early sexual maturity by well developed comb and wattles, and a large, pliable abdomen with flexible pin bones that are spread apart. A healthy flock should be the aim of all poultrymen.

Higher Farming Costs

Labor and products bought by the farm in 1937 are predicted by the Department of Agriculture to cause a sharp increase in the cost of farming. Price for feed for live stock and seed will stay high until the crop of the 1937 season replenishes the present drought-reduced supply. Farm machinery, fertilizer, and building supplies are expected to advance some in price due mostly to the increased cost of labor and material.

Keep Brood Sows Gaining

Brood sows should be kept gaining at the rate of about one pound per day up to farrowing time. Difficulty in farrowing, pig eating and poor milk flow are often traceable in inadequate rations, states a writer in Wallace's Farmer. A good ration includes about a pound of oats per sow daily, a small amount of protein supplement such as tankage or soy bean meal, free access to legume hay and enough corn to put on the desired gain.

EVENING CAPES OF LACE ARE FAVORED

Paris Designers Applauded for Innovation.

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

The collections of the Paris couturiers have established a new use of lace, which is already a favorite of all lengths, in capes and coats of all lengths, and types. Vionnet and Lelong have both received enthusiastic applause for the capes they presented; Vionnet's full-length wrap for evening, with a hood that can be dropped back or worn over the head to protect one's coiffure is extremely graceful and beautiful. Lelong designed a hip-length cape of beautiful duchesse type lace, with a little collar through which a cord was drawn, and with accented shoulder effect. Sheer lace lends itself particularly to the vogue for color combinations, and has been shown in many types of costumes with contrasting colors. Lelong's cape is in the new carnelian shade, and she showed it over a plain crepe gown of Nile green. You can get no more picturesque effect for a complete evening ensemble, than on a brightly printed crepe dress worn under a cape of sheerest lace in white or black. The cape is more lovely when made quite full to fall in soft draped lines over the dress.

The hood on capes is a new feature that will be seen much during the next months. The capes are varied in pattern and length, some being of elaborate and very dressy laces, worn more for effect than for warmth, while others are of the fabric type laces, some in wool lace, and these make highly fashionable wraps that really give warmth on cool spring evenings.

SMART LINEN

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

Place black, white and red together and the effect is not only striking but it is right in line with fashion's decree for this summer. Dark linens, navy, brown or black are particularly good style for suits and sports frocks. There is a sophisticated, or shall we say childish simplicity, about the black linen resort dress which Gertrude Niesen, film star, wears in this picture, which is most fetching. White appliques, bound with red, and red bone buttons give that bright touch which fashion demands this season. A large red cartwheel hat trimmed in white grosgrain completes this charming costume.

White Daisies on Black Make an Effective Gown

Rough black crepe printed in big white daisies is used for an effective spring gown that has a high front bodice and is suspended by a slender halter which leaves the back and shoulders bare. The gown, which is beltless, has a skirt that is cut circular to add fullness to the sheath-like dress. Two flat flounces are applied to the back of the skirt—one at the hips and one at the knees. A fluted ruche of black tulle edges these flounces and likewise makes an edging of the hem of the skirt.

STYLE NOTES

Suits lead the list. Brims grow wide, wider, wider. Call is for costumes in cereal colors. Skin-tan tints are favored for hosiery. Gay gypsy strain runs throughout fashion. It's newest to wear two bou-tonnieres. Smocks of gay print are also used for summer wraps.

Carnation Motif Is Used in Charming Silk Prints

Carnations in single flowers or giant clusters are a new-looking pattern choice, done in colors or white on dark silk grounds. They sprawl over exotic evening gowns spaced so as to have one or two clusters on the skirt and a single one on the bodice. More closely spaced carnation prints in delicate indefinite designs appear in silks for afternoon and daytime costumes.

FOOD MARKET

Advice-

AFTER a holiday week-end, the average housewife wants to average up her food expenditures by being especially economical. To do that this week, means an increased use of vegetables and fruits and a reduced meat consumption, as the two former are lower and the latter even higher than in recent weeks. Meat for flavor, meat to make VEGETABLES, the MACARONI family and RICE appetizing rather than meat to satisfy hunger, is the rule when economy is important.

Meats Higher
Both BEEF and PORK and the SMOKED MEATS are considerably higher than they have been. LAMB and VEAL are fractionally higher but offer, particularly in their forequarter cuts, the best available values. POULTRY prices continue to be somewhat lower than they were a year ago. FISH of many varieties should be reasonably priced. CHEESE and EGGS, though the latter are somewhat higher, are excellent foods and good value.

Vegetables Plentiful
Large supplies of vegetables are coming to market and, generally speaking, they are very reasonably priced. Among the GREEN BEANS, CABBAGE, locally grown

CARROTS, CUCUMBERS, LETTUCE, PEPPERS and POTATOES may be considered cheap. In the reasonable class may be found ONIONS, TURNIPS, PEAS, SPINACH, the various kinds of SUMMER SQUASH, EGG-PLANT and CAULIFLOWER.

Fruit List Long

As is usual with advancing summer the list of available fruits is long. Various small fruits including several kinds of BERRIES, CHERRIES, and CURRANTS are at the height of their season. APRICOTS, PLUMS and PEACHES are fairly plentiful and reasonable, the MELON family is only less important than potatoes in terms of carlot shipments. New APPLES have begun to come to market though in very small quantity. PINEAPPLES are still available and a few early PEARS have arrived. BANANAS and ORANGES keep their year round place.

Here is a menu of a type calculated to help keep expenses down.

Veal and Vegetable Pie with Biscuit Crust
Shredded Boston Lettuce
Bread and Butter
Tapioca Cream

Yesterdays

Forty-two Years Ago

Fourth of July Accidents
There were a number of accidents from the handling of fireworks, on Thursday last, in and around Antioch. The most serious was that of Ernest Johnson, at Selter's Sportsmen's Home. The evening was to have been spent in the display of fireworks, and a number of the pieces had been fired off, when Ernest lit a giant cracker and after waiting a reasonable length of time he concluded it had gone out, and picked it up just as it exploded. The result was terrible. His right hand was completely blown to pieces. Drs. Ames and Karr were hastily summoned and found it necessary to amputate the thumb and all the fingers but the first or index. The sufferer was made as comfortable as possible under the circumstances, and we hope to see him about again in a short time. It will be a terrible misfortune to Ernest, as he has his living to make, and the loss of fingers on the right hand will seriously interfere with him.

Another incident, though not as serious as it might have been, happened to a young man by the name of Lyman, a member of the Baptist Boys' Brigade, then in camp on Merrywood Point. He was coming to Antioch and was exploding giant crackers as a sort of diversion, and stopping to watch a farmer load hay and forgetting about a lighted cracker in his hand, it exploded, cutting his hand quite badly. If he had had a good hold on the cracker his entire hand would have been blown away. Dr. Ames dressed the wound.

And still another. Robert Tooker, Jr., thought the giant crackers were not loud enough when fired from the open air, so he shut one up in a piece of tile. It went off! The tile exploded too, and Robert received a piece of the tile just under the knee cap. Dr. Karr was called and dressed the wound, and says it is only a flesh wound, although it might have been worse.

The Ladies of the Fresh Air Home have arranged to have their annual regatta on Saturday, August 3, 1895, on the Fox Lake course, at which time The Antioch News cup will be competed for. Following the regatta a dramatic entertainment will be given at Wilton's Opera House, in Antioch, for the benefit of the home. Some of the best Chicago talent will take part in the entertainment, all for sweet charity's sake, and something exceedingly fine may be looked for. Further particulars, with a full program, will be given in these columns as soon as perfected.

The Mineola Hotel, on the west bank of Fox Lake, is filled to overflowing. Seventy-five guests registered there in one day the past week. Mr. Hart is making this hotel very popular.

The Wisconsin Central train last Wednesday was over an hour late at this station and had ten coaches full of people out of Chicago.

George Bartlett, while going to H. D. Hughes' fire Sunday afternoon, broke a blood vessel in his right limb and the doctor had to be called to stop the flow of blood.

The Fourth of July dance party, at Albert Hermann's "Queen of the West" was quite well attended, and a very pleasant affair.

The party at the Wilton Opera House, on the evening of the Fourth, was quite largely attended, and as usual every one had a good time. Manager Wilton exerts himself to make it pleasant for those who attend his parties, and as a result the dances are very popular.

The dwelling house on the old Scott Smith farm, one mile north of Millburn, now owned and occupied by a Mr. Starkweather, was burned on Thursday evening, July 4. Dan Webb was passing by, at about 9 o'clock, and seeing smoke issuing from under the cornice, with difficulty awakened the family and got them out just as the flames burst from under the roof. The contents were mostly saved, but the building burned to the ground. How the fire started is a mystery, as there had been no fire near where the flames broke out for some length of time. The building was insured in the Millburn Mutual for $600.00.

We had a most refreshing shower, Sunday afternoon and all nature seems jubilant over it. A beautiful rainbow followed the rain.

TEN YEARS AGO

No drownings occurred in Lake county during the holidays just past, although three citizens of the county lost their lives and two others were drowned in the nearby Wisconsin lakes.

Contractors working on the New Lake street pavement began pouring cement on the west section of the street this morning. The paving is expected to be completed in a week and the street will be opened to traffic in August.

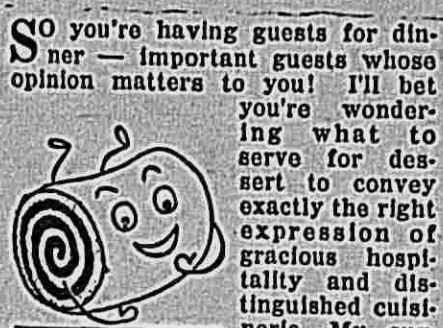

The Corona Pen Company will erect a factory and move their business from Janesville, Wis., to Antioch. Miss Elizabeth Gaston is assisting at the Fanny May candy shop.

A family dinner was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Remour Sunday at their home near Hooppole in honor of a sister of Mrs. Remour, Miss Jennie Potter of Antioch, Illinois.

The wedding of Miss Selma Mae Hachmeister and Arthur Bernard Trieger took place June 30, 1927, at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Trieger at Grass Lake. The ceremony took place in the garden of the Trieger home.

Our Own Tested Recipe

By Frances Lee Barton

SO you're having guests for dinner — important guests whose opinion matters to you! I'll bet you're wondering what to serve for dessert to convey exactly the right expression of gracious hospitality and distinguished culinarie. My suggestion is Blackberry Roly-poly, a wholesome blackberry and cake roll which you serve hot with cream. You'll be proud of it!

Blackberry Roly-poly
2 cups sifted flour, 2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder; 1/2 teaspoon salt, 4 tablespoons butter or other shortening; 3/4 cup milk (about); melted butter; 1 1/2 cups fresh blackberries; 6 tablespoons sugar.

Sift flour once, measure, add double-acting baking powder and salt and sift again. Cut in shortening. Add milk gradually until soft dough is formed. Turn out immediately on slightly floured board and roll 3/4 inch thick. Brush with melted butter, cover with blackberries, and sprinkle with sugar. Roll as for jelly roll. Moisten edge and press against roll. Place in greased loaf pan with edge of roll on under side, brush with melted butter, and bake in hot oven (400° F.) 30 minutes or until done. Serve hot with cream. Serves 8.

IF you've a special place for everything, keep a recipe file, and object to cluttered closets, you'll really enjoy preparing and setting this Asparagus and Tomato Salad. It's as ordered as a West Point dress parade and equally as colorful. As for the flavor, tender asparagus tips and sun-ripened tomatoes neatly held in fruit-flavored gelatin speaks for itself.

Asparagus and Tomato Salad
1 package lemon-flavored gelatin; 1 pint hot water; 4 teaspoons vinegar; 1/2 teaspoon salt; 18 canned asparagus tips; 2 medium tomatoes; 1/2 teaspoon scraped onion; 1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce.

Dissolve lemon-flavored gelatin in hot water. Add vinegar and 1/2 teaspoon salt. Chill until slightly thickened. Trim asparagus to height of molds. Cut one tomato into thin wedges. Line 6 individual molds with asparagus and tomato wedges, arranged alternately. Dice remaining asparagus and tomato, season with 1/2 teaspoon salt, and combine with remaining ingredients. Fold into slightly thickened gelatin. Fill molds and chill until firm. Unmold on crisp lettuce. Garnish with mayonnaise. Serves 6.

Coil of Snakes

The rattlesnake is typical of the snakes that coil before striking. As soon as it is alarmed, it throws its body into a coil, with head raised a little above the rest of the body. When ready to spring, the muscles of the upper part of the snake are suddenly contracted, so as to straighten the body abruptly and thrust the head forward in a direct line. As the upper part of the body only is employed, the snake never strikes at a greater distance than one-third to one-half its length.

Common Form of Insanity

One of the most common forms of insanity is dementia praecox. Known also as schizophrenia, it frequently occurs late in adolescence or early in adult life. Its varying symptoms, says a writer in Pathfinder Magazine, include disintegration of personality, loss of interest in people, inability to take part in social or business affairs, incoherence of thought, silly or depressed behavior, mental delusions, and periods of deep stupor.

U. S. Debt to France in 1790

Hamilton's report to congress showed that the public debt in 1790 amounted to some $54,000,000, of which about $12,000,000 was owed to foreign creditors, chiefly in France. There was also an aggregate of $21,000,000 of the state debts. Hamilton proposed to add this to the national debt, making $75,000,000 in all, and recommended that the national government assume the state debts. The national debt was paid during the first part of the Nineteenth century.

ACES AVENGE DEFEAT; BEAT ALL-NATIONS, 5-4

The Antioch Aces defeated Dr. King's All-Nations team from North Chicago on the local lot Sunday, 5 to 4, before a large crowd that came to see the Aces avenge a former defeat at the hands of the dusky ball tossers. Wells tripled in the ninth and Effinger, Antioch's 15 year old first baseman singled, tying the score. Bown batted for Hanke and doubled. Hostetter singled, thus winning his own game when Effinger crossed the plate.

Lice Halt Laying

Practical poultrymen know that an infestation of lice can quickly throw a normal and healthy flock out of production. Of course, there are other causes which will interrupt steady laying, but when your flock suddenly begins to slack down in production it is wise to look immediately for lice. If they are present you probably have found the cause of trouble—and you can quickly eliminate it. Many poultrymen do not wait for lice to appear but dust their poultry houses as a preventive. This, of course, is a help rather than a curative treatment—but it certainly is worth while when one takes into consideration the loss caused by even just a few days loss of production.

Feed Seaweed

Scientists at Cornell university, occupied with discovering a better, more effective cure for goitre, went to the sea and gathered therefrom great quantities of seaweed. A flock of hens then were taken to coops and were fed the "sea spinach." The "sea spinach" abounds in the particular type of iodine that is the enemy of goitre, and eggs from these specially fed hens were found to contain 500 times as much iodine as ordinary eggs. The scientists further decided that what's good for hens is good for cows. Several bossies, too, were fed "sea spinach." Milk contained more of the valuable important iodine.

Pepper Used as Money

Pepper was so highly esteemed in Europe in the Middle Ages that taxes and tributes were often paid in this commodity. Thus, in the siege of Rome by Alaric, the King of the Goths, the city's ransom was 5,000 pounds of gold, 30,000 pounds of silver and 3,000 pounds of pepper.

Score and Underscore

To score a passage means to obliterate it, as by drawing the pen through the passage thus to be canceled. To underscore a passage means to underline a passage, as by drawing a pen under the words thus to be indicated—Literary Digest.

Fancy Now Turns to Exotic Cottons

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

Oh, OH, OH! Did you ever see anything in the way of fabric so dazzling to the eye, so daringly designful, so altogether fascinating as the new cotton weaves that are dancing so madly, so merrily, so fashionably into the current style picture?

How perfectly they tune into the costume needs of carefree summertime activities! It is no wild statement to say that an entire wardrobe can be successfully fashioned of cotton materials that will carry smartly through active sports and morning dress hours, that will answer to the call for voguish afternoon costumes, climaxing the around-the-clock program with evening formals that are just too lovely for words.

Cottons for formal wear? Yes, indeed! The next time you go to a dance or nighttime society event, count for your own satisfaction, the dresses fashioned of one type of cotton or another. You will see glamorous filmy cotton voiles so in demand at the present moment, dotted swisses, shadow printed organdies, superfine seersucker sheers and other entrancing cotton weaves too numerous to mention.

Perhaps after all has been said and done it is the amazing cotton prints that are of outstanding significance. For excitement at high pitch, watch the procession of exotics in cotton that are that authentically oriental and superbly colorful you feel that they must have hailed direct from ports in far Persia, or East India, perhaps Java or China, or from Hungary or some other central-Europe country, or just as likely the print that holds you spell-bound may be of South American origin, for the latter rank high in style prestige this season.

Do these foreign-looking American-made prints make up effectively in dance frocks? Find the answer in the charming dress pictured to the right in the illustration. This sleeveless evening gown with graceful skirt and with halter-type bodice is made of one of the new Hungarian cotton prints which reproduce old-world textiles. The colors are rich and glowing and there is a gypsy flavor about them and the beads and the bracelets worn are in definite keeping with the trend in the summer mode. Needless to say that the colors of the print are fast to both sun and washing.

Take the thought of the perfectly gorgeous new cotton prints and the thought of the stunning new house coats, such as are proving the big sensation in fashion realms, put the two together and the duo-theme is enough to tempt any home-sewing woman into action. Which is exactly what is happening.

She who loves to go nautical will enjoy making up the beach coat to the left in the picture, which may be smartly used later on as an evening coat or as a house coat. The material, patterned with anchors and other seafaring themes, being properly pre-shrunk will not lose its perfect lines or fit from laundering, neither will the colors lose out in tubbing.

A cool, competent play outfit of colorful early American print centers the trio. Being dependably pre-shrunk it is able to take its tubbings cheerfully without tendency to lose shape. The shirt and shorts are in one. The skirt whisks on and off at will.

Bump of Firmness
Firm-willed, obstinate folks have a very well-formed bump high up on the crown of the head. In some cases, says a phrenologist in London Answers Magazine, a highly developed bump of firmness means that its owner will gain success through sheer determination and persistence; in others it may mean that there is unreasonable persistence and obstinacy. But unless you have quite a pronounced bump here you have no will of your own. Just behind this is the bump of self-esteem. Moderation, as you can guess, is very necessary with a bump of this nature. You need just an average-sized bump here.

All Urged to Make Arrests
Citizens of Chicago in 1851 were told they could constitute themselves a one-man vigilante in apprehending speed-law violators, as revealed in the ordinances of the city. "No person," read the anti-speed ordinance, "shall immoderately ride or drive any horse in any avenue, street, alley or lane within the limits of this city under penalty of not less than $2 nor more than $10. And it is hereby made the duty of every officer, and it shall be lawful for any citizen, to stop any person who may be immoderately riding or driving as aforesaid."

Line of Beauty in Art
The term, a line of beauty, in art is applied to a graceful curved or undulating line, which is held to be absolutely beautiful in itself. Such a line is commonly represented as a double curve, resembling an elongated letter S.
